ST. MARY'S PRESENTS . .

A CHALLENGE . . .

WE AS STUDENTS,

to obtain knowledge

to accept responsibility

ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE...

to develop abilities

to create

MAY WE ACCEPT

understanding others

being an individual

THE CHALLENGE IN

fulfilling ambitions

finding one's self

FOREWORD

A challenge is sounded to young people throughout the world—education—and we come to St. Mary's in answer to this call. At first, we interpret our challenge in a limited sense, comprehending only the surface meaning of the word "education." However, as we begin our struggle with textbook facts, we slowly realize that our school, with its traditions, its opportunities, and its lessons both in and out of the classrooms is becoming a molding influence on our lives.

As we develop intellectually, we gain maturity and realize that the primary challenge at St. Mary's is learning to understand ourselves. We are then able to accept fully the responsibility for our own conduct and attitudes, and in the traditional spirit of unity at our school, we learn to feel responsible for our fellow students and for the reputation of St. Mary's. Those of us who graduate this year and those who remain behind are eager to attain our chosen goals and carry with us the knowledge that St. Mary's has prepared us well for whatever future challenges we may encounter.

DEDICATION

It is difficult to give, without personal sacrifice, the assurance and guidance that youth requires. A lady who gives of herself so unselfishly is rare indeed, and the 1962 STAGECOACH is dedicated to such a person. Going her way quietly, calmly, and unobtrusively, she has directed St. Mary's students with a purpose second to none. She has instilled a respect for the meaning of life and a desire for perfection in all who know her.

For your patience and kindness, for your sincere interest in us, and for innumerable evidences of your faith in us. MISS ELIZABETH BASON, we are truly grateful.

In Memoriam

Miss Mary Lewis Sasser was born March 15, 1896. She attended school in Goldsboro, N. C., and completed her education at Greensboro College in Greensboro, North Carolina. In 1923, Miss Sasser came to St. Mary's to serve as treasurer of the school, a job which she efficiently held until her death on November 13, 1961.

All of us have moments in our lives when the challenges to our resources seem too great to accept. At these times we students at St. Mary's turn to our little chapel whose tranquil, steady influence is the basis of our school life. There we worship together in weekly services or step from our busy world for individual meditation.

ADMINISTRATION

RICHARD G. STONE
President

Dr. Richard G. Stone, our president, is admired by all for the job he has done in upholding the reputation and high standards of St. Mary's. His leadership, in every phase of life at St. Mary's, makes this a school of which we can be proud.

MISS EDITH A. RICHARDSON

THE REVEREND MOULTRIE GUERRY

Miss Edith A. Richardson, our Dean of Students, will always be gratefully remembered in our hearts. Miss Richardson, through her understanding and interest, has instilled in us the true spirit of St. Mary's. In future years we may forget many acquaintances at St. Mary's, but we will never forget "Miss R."

Dr. Moultrie Guerry, our chaplain, enthusiastically inspires each of us with his winning smile and cheerful words of encouragement. More important, his wise counseling and interest make us realize that there is always someone to whom we can turn in times of need.

SCENES AROUND CAMPUS

"Here we stand like birds in the wilderness waiting to be fed"
... beige meat ... brown meat ... and parsley ... etc., etc. ...

Our books lie waiting to fill our minds—while we fill our stomachs in the dining room.

The 1:25 rush for a cigarette and a hand of bridge before afternoon classes.

"Please, Mr. Postman, check and see, oh yeah, is there a letter in the bag for me, ..."

Save your Confederate money ... but not for use in the coke machine.

Neither rain, sleet, snow, nor the little man can keep our faithful Mr. Hicks from making his rounds.

MARSHALS

Marty Watkins, Winston Conner, Erwin Parrott, chief, Brooke Davila, Rosemary Adair, Jackie Baublitz.

Each spring the six marshals are elected from the rising Senior class. Their duties are to usher at chapel services and at school entertainments. After the graduation services in May, the chief marshal drops a handkerchief to signify that the school year has officially ended.

Some of us shall leave St. Mary's to meet whatever challenges life may present. Others will return to St. Mary's, next year. However, none of us shall ever forget the lessons—not only academic lessons, but also lessons in living—which we have learned here.
